

COMIC CRAFT

Project Design Phase

The Project Design Phase converts the selected comic idea into a detailed visual and story plan. The team designs the characters, backgrounds, page layouts, panel sequence, speech bubbles, captions, colours and overall artistic style. A storyboard is created to show how the story will progress from beginning to end. This phase provides a clear structure for the comic and helps the team maintain consistency throughout the project.