

COMIC CRAFT

Project Documentation Phase

The Project Documentation Phase records the complete process used to create the Comic Craft project. The team documents the original idea, requirements, design, planning, development and testing activities. Sketches, storyboards, drafts, screenshots, team responsibilities and tools used can also be included. Good documentation provides evidence of the work completed and explains how the comic developed from an initial idea into the final project.