

COMIC CRAFT

Project Demonstration Phase

The Project Demonstration Phase is the final stage of the Comic Craft project. In this phase, the completed comic is presented to an audience, and the team explains the story, characters, creative idea and development process. Selected pages or scenes can be shown to demonstrate the final result. The team can also explain the improvements made after testing and answer questions from the audience. This phase helps communicate the creativity, effort and outcome of the Comic Craft project.